A Note to Participants

Welcome to the Oklahoma Fall Arts Institute at Quartz Mountain! Prepare yourself for an enriching weekend of total arts immersion. Against the beautiful, natural setting of Quartz Mountain, this will be an exceptional educational experience.

You can look forward to first-rate instruction by renowned artists from across the United States. The pace of the workshop is accelerated to encourage maximum growth in a brief period of time.

OFAI is a safe environment where you can take risks and try new things. If you approach your workshop with an open mind and a spirit of exploration, this challenging experience will expand your technique, knowledge, and artistic vision while renewing your creativity, self-awareness, focus, and enthusiasm. We hope you will leave OFAI having grown as an artist and as a person. Thank you for joining us!

The Oklahoma Arts Institute

Mission Statement: To provide exceptional multidisciplinary arts experiences that develop individual talent and inspire a lifelong passion for the arts.

The Oklahoma Arts Institute is a private, non-profit organization with a vision to cultivate established and emerging artists and educators through arts workshops, immersion and awareness. Since 1977, the Oklahoma Arts Institute has recruited nationally renowned artists to teach a fine arts program for talented Oklahoma youth and a series of continuing education workshops for adults. All programs are held at the Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge in Lone Wolf, Oklahoma.

Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge

Quartz Mountain State Park in southwest Oklahoma overlooks the pristine waters of Lake Altus-Lugert. A sacred and inspiring site, Quartz Mountain was formerly ceremonial grounds for Kiowa, Comanche, Wichita, Apache and Caddo tribes. Today, Quartz Mountain is home to a State Park & Lodge and is an ideal retreat for arts immersion. With the 700-seat Robert M. Kerr Performing Arts Center, a state-of-the-art darkroom, five studio pavilions, an outdoor amphitheater, the Beverly Badger Memorial Library, and the Quartz Mountain Art Collection, the Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge is the region's artistic epicenter. Nature lovers enjoy hiking and biking trails, bird watching, and a unique Oklahoma ecosystem. The Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge is truly an Oklahoma treasure.

The Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge is 17 miles north of Altus, on state highway 44A near the town of Lone Wolf. The lodge is approximately 4 hours from Tulsa, 2½ hours from Oklahoma City, and 4 hours from Dallas.

Please note that some online mapping services and GPS devices have incorrect map data. For directions, please visit the OAI website at <https://oaiquartz.org/content/directions-quartz-mountain-area-hotels>.

Refund/Cancelation Policies

If a participant is unable to attend a workshop for any reason, OAI must receive notification immediately so that the workshop place may be filled by an applicant from the waiting list.

PUBLIC EDUCATORS RECEIVING SCHOLARSHIPS: If OAI does not receive notice of cancelation, or if a scholarship recipient cancels fewer than 72 hours before the start of their workshop without a doctor's note or other evidence of an emergency, the scholarship recipient will not be eligible for an OFAI scholarship in the future. Additionally, scholarship recipients who cancel after enrolling in a workshop two years in a row will not be eligible for a scholarship in the future.

ALL OTHER PARTICIPANTS: If a participant cancels more than 14 days before the first day of the workshop, their tuition and $100 deposit will be refunded. If cancelation notice is received after the 14-day deadline, and the workshop place cannot be filled, participants will forfeit the $100 deposit. If cancelation notice is received within 72 hours of the beginning of the workshop, the entire cost of the workshop will be forfeited. In the instance that the Oklahoma Arts Institute is forced to cancel a class, the full deposit will be refunded.

The Oklahoma Arts Institute reserves the right to substitute faculty members. In all such cases, an attempt will be made to inform participants of a faculty change as time constraints will allow.

Housing & Meals

Hotel rooms are equipped with bed linens, pillows, towels, hairdryer, iron, ironing board, microwave, mini refrigerator, phone, TV, a small patio, and limited daily housekeeping services. All housing facilities are air conditioned. The lodge courtyard includes a swimming pool and a hot tub.

Meals are served buffet style during OFAI, and all participants will be issued a nametag that should be worn as admission to meals.

Quartz Mountain is currently contracting with a new catering service, and OFAI menus are still being developed. Therefore, specific food items are not yet confirmed, and participants with limited diets are encouraged to bring snacks to supplement. Participants with food allergies should contact OAI in order to make special accommodations with the caterer: 405.605.7500 x0.

Please note: There is no longer a bar in the hotel restaurant, so alcohol will not be available for purchase at Quartz Mountain. Participants may choose to bring their own alcoholic beverages and store them in their hotel rooms. As always, intoxicated participants are prohibited from all classroom spaces.

Guests

Because the Oklahoma Arts Institute is charged by Quartz Mountain for all overnight guests, including those sharing participants' rooms, the OAI office must be notified of all guests. Participants wishing to bring and share a room with a non-participant guest may do so at an additional cost. Participants bringing non-participant guests are responsible for paying the $180 private room fee (for those whose registration did not include a private room), in addition to the necessary guest fees. All guest fees include lodging & meals for the duration of the weekend. If the guest is an adult (18 or over), the fee is an additional $120; if the guest is a child (ages 3-17), the fee is an additional $40.

Unattended children are not allowed at OFAI, and children may not attend classes. Although guests are never allowed to attend classes at OFAI, they are welcome to attend faculty presentations and other events outside of class time.

Internet

Wireless internet access is available at Quartz Mountain, but there is very little bandwidth; therefore, the connection could be very slow, and video streaming is discouraged. Furthermore, please be mindful that OAI staff members need to use the internet for OFAI-related business. If there are any large files/videos you would like to access from the internet, please download them before you arrive at Quartz Mountain.

Office & Store

The OFAI office at Quartz Mountain will be open 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. The OFAI office functions as the hub of communications and information, and a copy machine is available for class purposes.

The OFAI store sells a variety of OAI-related items, including OAI t-shirts and books by OFAI faculty artists. The store also carries some light snacks and bottled water. In addition to cash, the store accepts personal checks, Visa, and MasterCard.

What to Bring

Participants are encouraged to bring at least one face mask. A limited number of masks will also be available at Quartz Mountain.

Comfortable walking shoes are highly recommended. Participants should bring hiking boots if they plan to take advantage of the mountain trails.

Quartz Mountain Lodge does not secure valuables for guests, so participants who choose to bring valuables are encouraged to use a locking suitcase.

After sunset, pathways at Quartz Mountain can be very dark, and Quartz Mountain is home to rattlesnakes. A flashlight is recommended to aid with vision at night.

There will be a screenprinting social on Saturday night. If you would like to participate, you are encouraged to bring a plain, solid-colored item of clothing or other fabric to print on. There will also be such items available for purchase.

A variety of food and drinks will be available during OFAI, but it is recommended to bring supplementary snacks, if you have specific needs/requests. (All hotel rooms at Quartz Mountain come equipped with a microwave and a mini fridge.)

Participants should dress casually and comfortably. The weather in Oklahoma in the fall is unpredictable, so a variety of clothing is encouraged. Even in warm weather, air-conditioned spaces may be quite cool, so it's a good idea to pack a sweater or jacket. Participants may also want to bring a swimsuit (for the pool or hot tub) and rain gear.

Other items to consider: a reusable water bottle, travel coffee mug, a portable computer, sunglasses, bug spray, a small amount of cash, a journal/notebook, and a backpack or tote bag.

Optional yoga classes are scheduled during OFAI, and those who are interested in participating should wear comfortable clothes that allow for ease of movement. Classes are open to all experience levels, and mats will be provided; however, participants who have mats, straps, or blocks at home are encouraged to bring them.

Bed linens, pillows, and towels are provided.

Class Supplies & Studio Fee

Workshop supply lists are posted on the OAI website at <https://oaiquartz.org/OFAI/participant-information>. Participants should review the list carefully to ensure they have the necessary items.

Some workshops require more materials than others. These workshops carry with them a $30 studio fee (built into the cost of tuition for non-scholarship participants), which was charged during registration. Though participants may be asked to bring a few additional items from home, the studio fee covers most supplies for the class, including essential paints, brushes, canvases, paper, photo paper and inks, and other materials and tools. The studio fee also helps with the cost of purchasing and maintaining necessary equipment (e.g., easels, printing presses, computers, software).

Please note that the cost of supplies for most workshops at OFAI exceeds $30/person. This fee is simply intended to offset the cost to OAI of purchasing required materials. Items purchased by OAI are meant to be used at Quartz Mountain only; therefore, any unused supplies purchased by OAI must stay on site for use in future OFAI workshops. The studio fee does not permit a participant to take unused materials home with them.

Contagious Illness Policy

Due to the continued prevalence of the COVID-19 virus, and because OFAI occurs as influenza season begins, it's especially important that all OFAI participants take precautions to prevent the spread of contagious illness while at OFAI.

COVID and flu viruses spread between people who are in close contact with one another and through respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes. It may also be possible that a person can become infected by touching a surface or object that has the virus on it and then touching their own mouth, nose, or eyes. To avoid the spread of contagious illnesses, all participants should follow standard precautions during OFAI:

- Participants should avoid touching their eyes, nose, or mouth.
- Participants should avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Participants should keep their hands clean by washing frequently with soap and water. When soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
- Participants should cover their mouth and nose with a tissue or the crook of their elbow when they sneeze and immediately dispose of used tissues in a trash receptacle.
- The COVID-19 and influenza vaccines are very effective for preventing the spread of these illnesses, and participants are highly encouraged to receive these vaccines prior to OFAI.
- If a participant becomes sick while at Quartz Mountain, OAI staff must be notified immediately. Participants who have a fever or exhibit other signs or symptoms of contagious illness will not be allowed to participate in OFAI classes or events. The OAI staff will assist participants in obtaining necessary medical treatment and making arrangements to return home. The OAI staff will take all reasonable steps to maintain and protect their health and wellbeing, as well as that of the entire OFAI community.

COVID-19 Protocol

OAI recognizes that COVID-19 still presents a significant concern and has implemented the following preventative measures to help reduce the spread of COVID-19:

- If any participant tests positive for COVID-19, they will be unable to participate in OFAI classes or events.
- Face masks are optional. In keeping with OAI's commitment to create a community of mutual respect, participants are free to choose whether and when they wear mask, and all participants are expected to show consideration for the personal decisions of others.
- For those who have already received the primary series vaccination, COVID-19 vaccine boosters are strongly encouraged prior to OFAI. Boosters offer added protection or restore protection that may have diminished over time. For more information about COVID-19 vaccine boosters, visit <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/vaccines/booster-shot.html>
- Prior to arrival at Quartz Mountain, all participants are expected to take preventative measures to reduce the risk of transmission. Participants are urged to monitor their temperature and symptoms of COVID-19 (e.g. cough, shortness of breath), communicate with OAI staff regarding any possible exposures, and get tested if any exposures are known or symptoms develop. Rapid tests will also be available at Quartz Mountain.

Arrival & Check-In

OFAl check-in occurs Thursday from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the main lobby of the Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge. Upon arrival, each participant must check in with the OAI staff at a table in the lodge lobby. OAI staff will distribute hotel room keys, so there is no need to check in at the front desk.

To expedite the check-in process, participants are assigned check-in times by proximity to Quartz Mountain. Participants should check in during the following times:

- 11:30 a.m. to 12 p.m.—Check-in for participants who live less than 150 miles from Quartz Mountain.
- 12 p.m. to 12:30 p.m.—Check-in for participants who live 150-200 miles from Quartz Mountain.
- 12:30 p.m. to 1 p.m.—Check-in for participants who live more than 200 miles from Quartz Mountain.

Lunch: OFAl meals begin with dinner on Thursday and extend through breakfast on Sunday, so lunch on arrival day is not provided. Participants must eat lunch before arrival on Thursday or pack a lunch to eat at Quartz Mountain.

Orientation: Participant orientation will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the lodge ballroom.

Faculty Presentations

Each lead faculty artist will give a short “Meet the Artist” presentation in the ballroom on Thursday evening, beginning at 7:30pm. Faculty presentations may consist of a performance, slide show, or audience participation event. Each “Meet the Artist” is approximately 10 minutes long. Although it is not required, participants are strongly encouraged to attend. Not only are these once-in-a-lifetime opportunities to learn from nationally-renowned artists, but one of the most beneficial aspects of OFAI is having the chance to learn about many different artistic disciplines.

Attendance

The Fall Arts Institute is an arts immersion experience. Each workshop session builds upon the previous session. Out of respect for the faculty artists, please arrive on time and attend all class sessions. Please keep in mind that organizations, foundations, and individuals have contributed funds to underwrite the cost of OFAI for all participants.

Non-Discrimination Policy

Diversity is one of the strengths of our organization and its programs. OAI is committed to maintaining employment, recruitment, hiring, and educational settings that are culturally, racially, and ethnically non-discriminatory and all-inclusive. Respecting differences is one of OAI’s core values.

OAI does not discriminate or permit discrimination against any person employed by, applying for, attending, or associated with OAI’s programs, based on the person’s race, color, age, religion, political beliefs, national origin, disability, familial status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.

Anti-Harassment Policy

OAI strives to create and maintain an environment in which all are treated with decency, dignity, and respect. Harassment, whether verbal, written or physical, is a form of discrimination. Harassment includes all types of bullying, intimidation, direct insults, malicious gossip, and victimization. OAI's Anti-Harassment Policy will be strictly enforced and may lead to disciplinary action, including dismissal from a program or employment.

Contact Information & Questions

The OFAI office phone number is 405.605.7500. The Quartz Mountain State Park & Lodge front desk is staffed 24 hours a day. Participants may call the hotel with questions about the facilities or in the event of an emergency at 580.563.9174.

OTHER HELPFUL INFORMATION FOR EDUCATORS

The following information summarizes some of the points most important to educators and/or those attending on scholarship. Please read the entire handbook, not just this section—there is a lot of important information all participants need to know in order to ensure the experience is beneficial.

Housing

Unless a private room is reserved at an additional cost of $180, participants will share a room with another OFAI participant.

Proof of Employment

Educators receiving a discount or scholarship must bring a valid school I.D. card, pay stub, or other proof of employment for the current school year. Educators will be asked to show this proof of employment upon arrival at check-in on Thursday afternoon.

Cancelation Policy for Scholarship Recipients

Educators who do not give cancelation notice or who cancel fewer than 72 hours before the start of their workshop without a doctor's note or other evidence of an emergency will not be eligible for an OFAI scholarship in the future.

Additionally, scholarship recipients who cancel after enrolling in a workshop two years in a row will not be eligible for a scholarship in the future.

Attendance Policy for Scholarship Recipients

Because scholarships are generously provided by the Oklahoma State Department of Education and private donors, educators are expected to attend all class sessions and remain at Quartz Mountain until check-out on Sunday. Additionally, educators must participate in all classroom activities including studio demonstrations. Significant attendance issues will preclude educators from receiving a scholarship or discount in the future.

Professional Development

Participant educators (regardless of scholarship status) are eligible to obtain 18 hours of professional development credit for OFAI attendance. In order to receive professional development credits, participants must attend all class sessions, participate in classroom activities as requested by the instructor, and remain at Quartz Mountain until check-out on Sunday. Participants who do not fulfill these requirements will forfeit all professional development credits; development credits will not be prorated.

The Oklahoma Arts Institute reserves the right to refuse credit to anyone who arrives late, leaves early, is absent from any class session, declines to participate in learning exercises, and/or is excessively tardy during the OFAI weekend.

Evaluations

After each OFAI weekend, participants and faculty evaluate the program. Evaluations are an important tool OAI staff relies on for guidance in order to continually adapt and improve OFAI programs. Scholarship recipients are required to complete an evaluation. Online evaluations will be available during the workshop weekend. All participants will receive an email with a link to the online evaluation and will be asked to complete it by November 1.

DON'T FORGET!

Educators receiving a discount or scholarship will need to bring a valid school I.D. card or other proof of employment for the current school year.
